

replace Dots function should:

- * take in any string (not null)
- * search/loop through string to find dots ('.') → * need correct expression for dot ('.') = /\u002E/g
- * remove every instance of dot ('.')
- * insert dash for each instance of dot ('.')